Primary Care Mentors Wanted!

Support the next generation of primary care research leaders

We're looking for experienced primary care professionals — including GPs, Practice Nurses, AHPs and Pharmacists — to volunteer as mentors on our RDN-funded research leadership programme.

You'll provide 1-2 hrs a month of 1-1 support to primary care staff who are developing their research leadership skills and championing research and innovation in their organisations. Your guidance could make a real and lasting difference to the future of primary care.

Why get involved?

Mentoring is one of the most meaningful ways to give back. Here's what you'll gain:

Make a difference

Help shape the next generation of primary care R&I leaders from within your own profession

Full training provided

Everything you need is included — attend our dedicated mentor training day and feel fully prepared

Join the NHS R&D directory

Be listed on the NHS R&D mentoring directory, raising your professional profile regionally

Express your interest

Ready to get involved?

Complete our short expression of interest form. We'll ask for your name, job role, organisation, and email — it takes just a few minutes.
